ABOUT ME

Hello there! I'm Aashna , a passionate first-year student pursuing a degree in Computer Science and Engineering. Technology has always fascinated me, and I'm thrilled to be delving into the world of coding, algorithms, and problem-solving.

During my first year, I've already begun to immerse myself in various programming languages and tools, from Java and Python to HTML/CSS and JavaScript. I've also participated in coding competitions and hackathons, where I've had the opportunity to collaborate with peers and tackle real-world challenges head-on.
